Lagrangian mean curvature flow and stable conical singularities

Tapio Behrndt

28. Oktober 2011

Abstract

In this talk I will give an overview about the results of my Phd thesis. The goal of the talk is to explain how short-time existence of the Lagrangian mean curvature flow can be proved when the initial Lagrangian submanifold has isolated conical singularities modelled on stable special Lagrangian cones.